

EAI

EAST ASIA INSTITUTE

Asia Democracy
Research Network

ADRN-INTERNATIONAL IDEA JOINT ONLINE SEMINAR

[Democracy Cooperation] Series 17

Climate Change and Democracy

※ Pre-registration is required.

Register here: https://eai-or-kr.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN\_9cri0wQ4TXKxzSToH5aXsQ\_

MODERATOR

Sook Jong LeeRepresentative, ADRN;
Senior Fellow,
East Asia Institute

The Asia Democracy Research Network (ADRN) and International IDEA invite you to a joint online seminar, titled "Climate Change and Democracy." Asia is the most populous and the most climate-vulnerable region with world's first and third biggest carbon emitters, China and India. Today, critics claim that democracies' response to climate change is much impeded due to their slow decision-making process and short-termism. Some go as far as to claim that authoritarianism is needed to tackle the crisis more effectively. Given such context, this ADRN-International IDEA Joint Webinar will serve as an excellent platform for experts from all across the region to discuss why democracies can better cope with climate change in the long run and what areas of improvement that Asian democracies should work on together.

SPEAKERS

Joo-Cheong ThamProfessor,
Melbourne Law SchoolNiranjana SahooSenior Fellow,
Observer Research FoundationMarlea P. MuñozPresident,
Women's Initiatives for Society,
Culture, and EnvironmentTsuji YuichiroProfessor,
Meiji University

DISCUSSION PANELISTS

Adhy AmanSenior Programme Manager,
Asia & the Pacific
Regional Programme,
International IDEATaedong LeeProfessor,
Yonsei UniversityYouhyun LeeProfessor,
Ajou UniversityLeena Rikkilä TamangRegional Director,
Asia & the Pacific Regional Programme,
International IDEA

DATE & TIME

19 June, 2023 [Mon]

2:00 PM - 4:00 PM
KST1:00 PM - 3:00 PM
PST3:00 PM - 5:00 PM
AEST10:30 AM - 12:30 PM
IST

※ This seminar is conducted in English via Zoom.
Only pre-registered audiences will have access to the livestream.
The seminar will be recorded and uploaded onto the EAI YouTube channel on a later date.

@eai.official
@eai.people

@EastAsiaInstitute

@eaiorkr